EMPLOYMENT HISTORY

2018- Private Practice - Counselling and training

Mental Health Promotion

Gatineau – Ottawa

Building on thirty years of experience in promoting individual resilience and mental health and preventing mental health problems, I offer individual counselling, coaching, professional training, personal development workshops and conferences to professionals, formal and informal caregivers and the general public on how to let go of fear, anger, self-judgment and self-doubt, and better care for themselves and others. (See my website)

2013-17 Senior Researcher and Expert-Advisor

Mental Health Promotion

Center for Health Promotion

Public Health Agency of Canada

* Certified trainer

Ottawa, Ontario

I lead the development of mental health promotion policy, research, practices and training to: promote public awareness and understanding of the importance of positive mental health to prevent mental health problems and maintain overall health; build capacity across sectors, e.g. public health, health and allied sectors, to promote positive mental health; and to better coordinate national efforts and actions on mental health promotion. I also provide senior management expertise and advice related to organizational culture and workplace mental health.

2011 - 2012 Senior Researcher and Expert-Advisor
Mental Health Promotion
Center for Health Promotion
Public Health Agency of Canada
Ottawa, Ontario

I coordinate the Center for Health Promotion engagement and contribution to the development and implementation of a Health Promotion Framework to better align and to facilitate program and policy development work in health and mental health promotion within the Agency and across Canada. I also provide senior management expertise and advice on various population mental health promotion issues.

2010 - 2011 Senior Researcher and Expert-Advisor
Mental Health Promotion
Office of Public Health Practice
Public Health Agency of Canada
Ottawa, Ontario

The purpose of my assignment to the Office of Public Health Practice is to provide senior management with expertise and advice on organizational culture and transformation, leadership development and mentally healthy working environment. These activities are central to the Public Health Agency of Canada's strategic objectives for 2007-2012 and Level 2 (transformation) of the National Quality Institute Progressive Excellence Program.

Special contribution with the Canadian Institute for Health Information for the development of the report Improving the Health of Canadians: Exploring Positive Mental Health (CIHI, 2009) and the writing of a complementary article.

2010 - 2015 Board Member
Board of Directors, Centre Mechtilde - For women and children experiencing violence and homelessness
Gatineau, Québec

2006 - 2009 INTERCHANGE CANADA ASSIGNMENT
Coordinator and Senior Researcher
Population Mental Health Promotion Initiative

University of Ottawa Institute of Mental Health Research
Ottawa, Ontario

I managed an initiative to support the development of research, practices and training programs on population mental health promotion. This initiative included the creation of an international population mental health promotion post-graduate training program.

Special contributions to the Declaration and to the Plan of Action for Mental Health in Europe adopted by 52 Member States in the Euro Region of the World Health Assembly in January 2005, and to the Bangkok Charter for Health Promotion approved in August 2005.

2006 - 2012 Assistant Professor
Department of Psychiatry, Faculty of Medicine
University of Ottawa, Ontario

2003 - 2005 Senior Policy Consultant and Researcher
Population Mental Health Promotion
Public Health Agency of Canada
Ottawa, Ontario

My work involved providing advice and expertise on many issues related to population mental health. The information and recommendations were formulated in response to various requests from within the Public Health Agency of Canada, its partners and its collaborating organizations nationally and internationally. I also worked on the development of public policy and public health strategies designed to promote the mental health of populations in Canada and abroad.

Member of the group of experts created by the federal Deputy Minister of Health to develop a strategic framework that sets out a vision for the future of the health in Canada until 2017.

2001 – 2003 INTERCHANGE CANADA ASSIGNMENT
Senior Researcher and Consultant
Population Mental Health Promotion
Institut national de santé publique du Québec
Montréal, Québec

I developed various mental health promotion research initiatives in Quebec. Specifically, my work served to broaden and enrich the knowledge of the Institute on issues concerning, robustness factors favoring the resilience of individuals and communities, to prevent and reduce the incidence of mental health problems in the population. It also involved informing, guiding and supporting decision-makers in the development of public health policy.

Special contribution to the national strategy for mental health promotion titled Building on Strengths and put in place by the New Zealand government in 2002.

2003 – 2006 Researcher and Associate Professor
Social Psychiatry

Fernand-Seguin Research Centre, Hôpital Louis-H. Lafontaine, Université de Montréal, Montréal, Québec

1998 – Founding Member of the International Editorial Committee for the International Journal of Mental Health Promotion.

1990 – 2010 Member of various peer-review committees for the Network of Centres of Excellence of Canada, the Canadian Institutes for Health Research, the National Program for Health Research and Development, the Medical Research Council, the Social Science and Humanities Research Council of Canada, and the Population Health Fund.

Special contributions to the presentations on Mental Health in Canada made to the House of Commons Standing Committee on Health and to the Office of the Prime Minister in Ottawa. These presentations led to federal government commitments to mental health outlined in the January 2001 Speech from the Throne.

1990 – 2010 Committee member of professional and scientific advisory boards and working groups within and among federal government departments. The focus of this work is on health and social issues in Canada.

1996 – Keynote speaker at many conferences and other events, nationally and internationally. Numerous interviews with the media.

1996 – Mentor and supervisor of graduate students from Canada and abroad wishing to perfect their knowledge and expertise in mental health promotion. National and international examiner for doctoral thesis.

Winner of the 1999 Pan-Canadian Head of the Public Service Award with which the Government of Canada rewards excellence, innovation and entrepreneurship.

1995 – 2001 Head and Researcher
Mental Health Promotion Unit
Health Canada
Ottawa, Ontario

I created the Mental Health Promotion Unit in 1995. I was responsible for the development and implementation of activities involving consultation, research, analysis and planning with a view to the development of strategic plans of action, public policy, research projects and programs focusing on population mental health promotion. The Unit's work is widely acclaimed nationally and internationally for its contribution to the advancement of knowledge in this field. Here are a few examples:
